

LAW & REGULATORY NEW GRADUATE ROLE

The emphasis here is that the role will be mainly desk based, linking to UK, EU or Government policy or law. It may be working with new or existing material for food law, safety, quality, authenticity or consumer protection. You could be employed in a government advisory/compliance body, accreditation/technical service company, retailer or a larger food manufacturing company.

Please note for this role, the data set is small and thus more limited in reliability

KEY FEATURES

Typical Role Names

- Sustainability Policy Assistant
- Regulatory Technologist
- Regulatory Affairs Officer
- Scientific Affairs Assistant / Officer

So What is Desirable for a Law and Regulatory New Graduate Role?

There are standards for the technical content of Food Sciences degrees; but there are more aspects you can develop to support success in the workplace. 14 typical graduate roles types have been identified & this is one of them. Industry have outlined what they think may be the most valuable skills, knowledge and behaviours for this role. They are outlined in 8 themes then more detail is provided on specific elements. Below is the profile for this role.

Desirable Themes for this Role

D7	Dependability	Harnessing your experiences and skills to establish trust in your ability to deliver.	D3	Data, Numbers and Communications	The ability to embrace information of all types, then use it and disseminate to best advantage.
D1	Positivity	Having the behaviours that drive success and wellbeing in the workplace.

Desirable Elements for this Role

Confidence
Critical Thinking
Passion for Subject
Personal Responsibility
Positive Attitude
Professionalism
Questioning Approach

Reliability
Resilience
Teamworking
Thoroughness & Attention to Detail
Verbal Communication
Working Under Pressure
Written Communication

Competencies for Food Graduate Careers

Find out about more technical graduate roles in the food industry and what may be best suited to you in developing your career on (web link to be added in near future)

University of Nottingham
UK | CHINA | MALAYSIA

This material has been developed with full food and drink industry involvement to support new graduates, employers and degree educators.

For more information please contact emma.weston@nottingham.ac.uk

